

Hunt Institute Open House 25 June 2017

Schedule of events

Sunday (25 June)

- 1:45–2:00 Welcome and introduction in reading room
- 2:00–3:00 “A celebration of plants, enjoying endless variety of form and kind”
by Librarian Charlotte Tancin

Tancin will present a talk and display from the Institute’s rare book collection. Striking historical illustrations of selected kinds of plants or aspects of their forms will be on display. She will talk briefly about each image, discussing what can be seen in the image and how the published image would have supported the work of botanists at the time, such as in floristic studies, reports of explorations, monographs on a family or genus, documenting new introductions or celebrating exotic garden plants.

- 3:15–4:00 Exhibition tour of Exquisite Patterns in Nature
- 4:00–4:30 Enjoy exhibition and displays; talk with curators and staff

Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation

5th Floor, Hunt Library
Carnegie Mellon University
4909 Frew Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
Phone: 412-268-2434
Fax: 412-268-5677
Email: huntinst@andrew.cmu.edu
Web site: www.huntbotanical.org

Institute and gallery hours
Monday–Friday, 9 A.M.–noon and 1–5 P.M.
Closed to the public noon–1 P.M.

Additional gallery hours during exhibitions
Sunday, 1–4 P.M.

Library hours
Monday–Friday, 1–5 P.M.

The Hunt Library building where the Institute has offices on the third and fifth floors, photograph by Graphics Manager Frank A. Reynolds.